MILITARY COMMISSIONS

Honor Graduates, Military Department

The College having been designated by the War Department as a Distinguished Institution, five percent of the graduates who have taken the Reserve Officers' Training Corps course are selected on the basis of their academic standing on the campus and their interest and efficiency in the prescribed military course, as Honor Graduates. One or more of these young men are usually tendered commissions as second lieutenants in the Regular Army, provided they can pass the physical requirements.

Commissions in the Officers' Reserve Corps

The United States Government has established Reserve Officers' Training Corps units in Cavalry, Engineers, Field Artillery, Infantry, and Motor Transport at this institution. Few institutions in the United States are so well equipped for efficient military instruction as the Oregon Agricultural College. A small percentage of educational institutions are listed as "Distinguished" on account of unusual efficiency of the Military Department, as determined by the War Department inspectors. This institution has been so classified since 1919. All of the graduates who complete the R. O. T. C. course are eligible for reserve commissions provided they are recommended by the proper college authorities. These commissions insure them of service as commissioned officers in time of war or emergency. The recipients of these commissions have demonstrated their leadership, manhood, and unselfish devotion to the services of the Nation.
