

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

132ND ANNUAL

Commencement

June 17, 2001 • Corvallis, Oregon

Alma Mater

Within a vale of western mountains
There's a college we hold dear
Her shady slopes and fountains
Oft to me appear.
I love to wander on the pathway
Down to the Trysting Tree,
For there again I see in fancy,
Old Friends dear to me.

(Chorus)

Carry me back to OSU,
Back to her vine-clad halls;
Thus fondly ever in my mem'ry
Alma Mater calls

Oregon State Creed

I believe in Oregon State,
Builder of men and women,
Seeker after truth,
Organized for the service of a great commonwealth.

I believe in her traditions,
A heritage from the deeds and dreams
of yesterday;
In her sportsmanship and honor, a reality
with the students of today,
In her aspirations and ideals,
The assurance of magnificent tomorrow

I believe in her democracy,
The beauty of her diversity,
And her far-reaching bond of Beaver spirit.
If I degrade myself I degrade her;
As I honor myself I honor her.

I therefore pledge to her, my Alma Mater,
My loyalty, my love, and my devotion.

Seating Arrangement and Color of Tassels

Academic Costume

Academic gowns represent a tradition which comes down from the universities of the Middle Ages. At that time they were a common form of dress and were retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern styles. The caps, originally round, later became square mortar boards. The hoods attached to the gown were originally cowls which could be slipped over the head for protection from the weather.

The significance of the costume is indicated especially by the sleeves and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves; the master's gown has long, closed sleeves; and the doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves and velvet trimmings.

The colored velvet border of the hood indicates the field of study to which the degree pertains, as do the tassel colors. (See Undergraduate Processional, page 5.)

The colorful lining of the hood indicates the institution from which the wearer received his or her degree. The lining of the Harvard University hood, for example, is crimson; Yale, blue; Wisconsin, bright red; California, gold; Washington State, crimson above grey; Oregon, lemon yellow and dark green, Stanford, cardinal; Oregon State, burnt orange.

THE COLLEGE OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

L. J. Kelvin Koong/Dean

Oregon State University offers the degree Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (D.V.M.) to those students who have satisfactorily completed a minimum of three years of preveterinary medical courses and four years of professional veterinary medical training. A portion of the professional training program is procured by OSU through a formal cooperative agreement with Washington State University and the University of Idaho, whereby the students move to Washington State University to receive training. The college also offers the M.S. in Veterinary Science and the Ph.D. in Comparative Veterinary Medicine.

THE COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

Wayne Kradjan/Dean

Oregon State University offers the degree Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) to those students who have satisfactorily completed a Bachelor of Science degree, plus two additional years of study in the post-baccalaureate Pharm.D. program. Applicants to the Doctor of Pharmacy program must have a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy degree from an accredited school or college of pharmacy in the United States or an equivalent degree from an international school with successful completion of the Foreign Graduate Equivalency Examination. This post-baccalaureate Pharm.D. program is a collaborative effort between the Oregon State University College of Pharmacy and the Oregon Health Sciences University School of Medicine. The degree is jointly conferred by these two institutions.

Distinguished Service Award

James B. Johnson

Jim Johnson has served as both vice president and Oregon site manager for Intel, the largest public company in the state. He also has a tremendous commitment to education, evidenced by his decision to take a leave of absence from Intel in 2001 to spend time advocating at the Oregon Legislature and other arenas for education investment at both the K-12 and higher education levels.

Johnson serves on the governor-appointed Engineering and Technology Industry Council (ETIC), a major driving force for gathering public and private support of engineering and computer science education in Oregon.

He also has volunteered his leadership to OSU's Technology Initiative, which in 18 months raised more than $45 million to provide scholarships, endowment funds and capital investment for OSU's College of Engineering.

"In his capacity as vice president of Intel, Jim Johnson became the most visible advocate for increased support of higher education in Oregon," said Ron Adams, dean of the OSU College of Engineering. "He eloquently connected Oregon's needs for economic diversity with investments in engineering and computer science education across the state, and he has energized industry leadership to support a top tier engineering college at OSU."

An outspoken advocate of engineering and computer science education throughout the state, Johnson also has helped raised funds for Portland State University; he serves on the Board of Trustees for the Oregon Graduate Institute; and he is a valuable member of the Oregon Business Council.

In an effort to keep top Oregon high school students in the state, Johnson and Intel created the Intel Scholars Program, which annually selects 18 Oregon high school seniors bound for engineering or computer science degrees to receive renewable $2,500 scholarships. The program has become a prototype for the Oregon American Electrical Association, whose members are now creating their own scholarship programs for students.

His commitment to fundraising also is personal: He established the Jim and Nancy Johnson Engineering Scholarships at Oregon State University.

Jim Johnson is a 1973 graduate from the University of California-Berkeley, and has a master's degree in computer science from Stanford University.

Distinguished Service Award

Bob Bailey

Bob Bailey is one of Oregon's most prominent agri-business leaders and education leaders. As president and CEO of Orchard View Farms in The Dalles, he helped develop and promote technology that allows Oregon-grown cherries to maintain their freshness longer, opening up new markets in Asia.

Under his leadership, Orchard View Farms also played a key role in experimenting with new varieties of cherries that could be planted at different elevations, better resist disease and pest infestation, and produce more cherries in shorter growing seasons.

Bailey's service to the state and national agriculture industry is vast, and includes leadership on the National Cherry Grower's Board, the Oregon Cherry Grower's Inc. Board, the Columbia River Bank, and other organizations.

Bailey is known equally for his educational leadership. He served for eight years as a member of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, including a stint as president from 1992-93. During that time, he was credited with helping Oregon's public universities weather potentially devastating budget cuts that resulted from passage of Ballot Measure 5.

"Bob Bailey's thoughtful, caring leadership during this period contributed substantially to the board's ability to make wise choices and decisions that minimized the damage to OUS universities and their programs," said Roy Arnold, an OSU administrator in the College of Agricultural Sciences, who was the university's provost and executive vice president at the time.

Bailey also has served on the school board for The Dalles District 12, the Oregon Health Sciences University board and various OSU Extension boards and committees. He is a trustee with the OSU Agricultural Research Foundation and the OSU/Mid-Columbia Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

His service goes beyond education and agriculture. Bailey also has served as a member or officer of the Mid-Columbia Medical Center and the Wasco County Budget Committee.

Born and raised on a family farm in The Dalles, Bob Bailey is a 1963 graduate of Oregon State University, receiving a degree in business administration. He later pursued graduate studies at the University of Maryland.

Graduation with Academic Distinction

Graduation with Academic Distinction is conferred by the Faculty Senate on those candidates for the baccalaureate degree who have maintained high scholastic standing in their respective colleges and who have been in attendance at Oregon State University for at least two regular academic years. The designation Cum Laude is conferred upon students graduating with a cumulative GPA of 3.50 to 3.69; the designation Magna Cum Laude is conferred upon students with a GPA of 3.70 to 3.84; and the designation Summa Cum Laude is conferred upon those students with a GPA of 3.85 or better.

Those who are graduating Cum Laude are wearing orange honor cords; students graduating Magna Cum Laude are wearing gold honor cords; and those students who are graduating Summa Cum Laude are wearing white honor cords.

UNIVERSITY HONORS COLLEGE

Jon Hendricks/Dean

The University Honors College offers highly motivated students from any major an opportunity to participate with a community of students dedicated to learning. Students completing University Honors College requirements are designated as Honors Scholars or Honors Associates. In addition to Baccalaureate Core coursework, courses within other academic colleges and University Honors College colloquia, the University Honors College offers opportunities for leadership and service learning.

LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES

The undergraduate curricula in the liberal arts and sciences at Oregon State University are offered through the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Science.

Candidates receive their diplomas from their deans in the order listed below.

College of Liberal Arts

Kay F. Schaffer/Dean

The College of Liberal Arts offers departmental majors in American studies, anthropology, art, economics, English, ethnic studies, foreign languages and literatures (French, German and Spanish), history, music, philosophy, political science, psychology, scientific and technical communication, sociology, and speech communication, and a major program in liberal studies. Certificate programs are available in applied ethics, Latin American affairs, peace studies, Russian studies, twentieth-century studies, and women studies. The College of Liberal Arts also offers many courses in the arts, humanities, and social sciences which are of value to all students and are basic to a liberal education.

College of Science

Sherman H. Bloomer/Interim Dean

The College of Science offers majors in the biological, earth, mathematical, and physical sciences for students who desire a career in science, a liberal education, or preparation for advanced study in science. Undergraduate students can major in biochemistry and biophysics, biology, botany and plant pathology, chemistry, entomology, environmental sciences, geosciences, mathematical sciences, mathematics, microbiology, physics, and zoology. Advanced degrees are offered in all the above disciplines and in general science, molecular and cellular biology, science and mathematics education, and statistics. Special programs include genetics and science. The College of Science provides preprofessional preparation for students wishing to enter dentistry, dental hygiene, medicine, medical-technology, nursing, occupational therapy, optometry, osteopathy, physical therapy, physician assistant, podiatry, radiation therapy, and veterinary medicine. The college also offers a certificate program in science, technology, and society.

PROFESSIONAL COLLEGES

The undergraduate progressional curricula at Oregon State University are offered through the Colleges of Agricultural Sciences, Business, Engineering, Forestry, Health and Human Performance, Home Economics and Education, and Pharmacy. The College of Oceanic and Atmospheric Sciences and the College of Veterinary Medicine offer graduate degrees only.

College of Agricultural Sciences

Thayne R. Dutson/Dean

The diverse professional and occupational areas in agriculture include production, processing, and marketing of food and fiber; outdoor recreation; and efficient utilization of human and natural resources. The main instructional fields within the college are agricultural and resource economics, animal sciences, bioresource engineering, environmental and molecular toxicology, bioresource research, crop and soil science, fisheries science, food science and technology, general agriculture, horticulture, international agricultural development, rangeland resources, and wildlife science. Extension education is an additional area of instruction, and the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Oregon State University Extension Service are closely connected with the college and its programs.

College of Forestry

Hal Salwasser/Dean

Forestry and natural resource professionals protect and manage forests and other natural resources to meet various public values and to provide the goods and services people need. Foresters are involved in management for water, wood, recreation, wildlife, fish, forage, and many other outputs as well as in sustainability of ecological processes, wilderness, and human communities. The college offers undergraduate curricula in forest engineering, forest management, forest products, forest recreation resources, and natural resources. The college also offers graduate degrees in many facets of forestry, natural resources, and wood products.

College of Pharmacy

Wayne Kradjan/Dean

The curriculum for the College of Pharmacy consists of two years of prepharmacy courses taken during the freshman and sophomore years, followed by three years of professional pharmacy courses; a total of five years required to complete formal pharmacy education. Today the role of the pharmacist is changing. The pharmacist has the education and skills to do exciting things like counsel patients, consult with physicians, and work with other health care providers. The pharmacist's goal is to assure that patients obtain the maximum benefit from their medications with the least side effects and at the most affordable price. Pharmacists strive to improve the health of the public.

Fellowships and Scholarships

Making a Difference with Fellowships and Scholarships

Talent, imagination, dedication, a desire to learn, an eagerness to lead, the courage to dream . . . these human qualities and aspirations know no economic boundaries. Chartered in 1868, Oregon State University always has been committed to helping students reach their full potential through higher education.

Perhaps at no time in history has our ability to offer access to higher education been more important. It has been widely documented that the fastest growing occupations in the United States are those requiring the highest levels of education. A college degree is becoming a minimum requirement for finding a good job and maintaining a decent standard of living.

It is especially disconcerting, then, to learn that more and more gifted young men and women are finding the cost of education to be a burden almost too heavy to bear. As college expenses continue to rise, financial aid is and will be the only way for many students to achieve their educational dreams.

At Oregon State University, increasing the amount of student aid continues to be a top priority. There are many reasons to increase the number of scholarships and fellowships including:

- Scholarships do not have to be repaid. Many students take on college loan debt when scholarships are not available. It is not uncommon to graduate with more than $10,000 of student loan debt.
- Scholarships and fellowships are effective student recruitment tools. For the most talented students, OSU is just one of many opportunities. The most sought-after students often select the school that offers the greatest amount of scholarship support.
- Scholarships and fellowships help provide a better work force for Oregon's employers. Over 75 percent of OSU's alumni remain in Oregon and the Pacific Northwest after graduation.
- Scholarships and fellowships benefit the university as well. Outstanding scholarship and fellowship recipients on campus inspire other students and, as a result, lift the entire institution to greater academic heights.

Won't you join the thousands of people who have helped make a personal difference via their gifts to the OSU Foundation* to support scholarships and fellowships? Your gift can support the New Student Scholarship Fund, the Presidential Scholarship Fund, the Diversity Achievement Scholarship Fund, or a named department or college scholarship or fellowship fund. Endowed funds provide a consistent level of funding to recruit students year after year and represent a promise to future generations.
