HEAD COACH SCOTT RUECK

It was a homecoming of sorts for OSU alumnus Scott Rueck, who was named the fifth head coach in the history of the Oregon State women's basketball program on June 30, 2010.

Rueck has been the architect of an accelerated turnaround of the women's basketball program at Oregon State, bringing the team onto the national stage in just five years as head coach. The Beavers reached new heights in the 2014-15 season, setting a school record with 27 wins, en route to a Pac-12 Regular Season Title. For his efforts, Rueck was named Pac-12 Coach of the Year by both the media and the coaches, and earned WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year honors for the second consecutive season. The Beavers' success on the floor was reflected in the national polls, as OSU was ranked as high as No. 7 in both the AP and USA Today/WBCA Polls during the season, the best rankings in school history, before the team ended the year ranked No. 13.

Oregon State also set a new program-best with a 16-2 conference record, surpassing the mark set in 2013-14. The Beavers went 14-2 at home, extending their home winning streak, which began in 2013-14, to 23 straight games. The historic season led to an increase in attendance, as the Beavers averaged a Pac-12 leading 4,167 fans per game, and welcomed 7,652 fans to Gill Coliseum for the Civil War on Jan.

9, the third-largest crowd in school history.

Under Rueck's guidance, Ruth Hamblin earned AP Third Team All-America, Pac-12 Player of the Year (media) and Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year honors, and was joined on the All-Pac-12 team by teammates Jamie Weisner and Sydney Wiese. The Beavers also led the conference with four Pac-12 Player of the Week awards on the season.

The Beavers finished 2013-14 24-11 overall, and ended the year tied for second in the final Pac-12 standings. Oregon State also advanced to its first NCAA Tournament since 1996 and won its first game in the event since 1995. The Beavers ended the year ranked 25th in the USA TODAY Coaches' Poll, their first time in the national rankings since 1996.

For the second time in four seasons the Pac-12's media tabbed Rueck as Coach of the Year and he was picked as the league's best by ESPN. Rueck was also named Russell Athletic/WBCA Region 8 Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the inaugural Pat Summitt Trophy for the 2014 Russell Athletic/WBCA NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year.

Oregon State propelled itself into the national conversation following a late-season 11-game win streak, which matched the second longest in school history and was the best in 31 years. Each win during the run was by at least 10 points, three came by 20 and the average margin of victory was 16.1 points.

Oregon State's 2012-13 campaign was highlighted by another stalwart defensive group and a young crew of five freshmen that produced more than any other collection of first-year players in the conference.

The Beavers finished the season 16th in the nation in field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to a school-record low 34.6 percent. OSU also was 11th in the country in blocks per game (5.5) and was the only team in the nation that boasted seven different players with at least 10 rejections. Oregon State's promising freshman class scored more than 46 percent of the team's points, the highest ratio in the Pac-12.

With another young squad in 2011-12 picked to finish last in the Pac-12, Rueck and the Beavers defied the odds, finishing fifth in the conference with a 9-9 mark, 20-13 overall, and made the third round of the WNIT. In ending the year seven spots above where they were picked at the beginning of the season, Oregon State made the largest jump between expected finish and actual result in conference history. Those achievements earned Rueck a pick as the Pac-12 Coach of the Year, as voted on by the conference media.

In his inaugural year as head coach of the Beavers, Rueck led an inexperienced squad, with only one player possessing NCAA Division I experience, to a 9-21 record.

Oregon State lost some close games to open Pac-10 play before earning its first conference win over Washington at Alaska Airlines Arena. Shortly after, the Beavers claimed their second Pac-10 victory at home in Gill Coliseum in what is believed to be the biggest come-from-behind victory in program history, overcoming a 20-point deficit to defeat Oregon, 61-59, in the Civil War.

That same year, Rueck was also inducted into the George Fox Sports Hall of Fame.

Rueck came to Oregon State after spending 14 highly successful seasons as the head women's basketball coach at George Fox, compiling a career 288-88 (.766) record. Under his watch, the Bruins recorded winning seasons each year and claimed the Division III National Championship in 2009 with an unblemished 32-0 record. Rueck led his squads to five Sweet 16 appearances, three Elite Eight contests, six NCAA Division III Tournament appearances and seven Northwest Conference Championships.

During his time at George Fox, Rueck coached four NAIA All-Americans, four NCAA All-Americans and 33 All-Northwest Conference honorees. Individually, he was named the NCAA Division III National Coach of the Year in 2009, was a three-time NCAA Division III West Region Coach of the Year (2008, 2009, 2010) and a seven-time Northwest Conference Coach of the Year (2000, 2001, 2005, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010).

Rueck got his start coaching while an undergrad at Oregon State. He served as assistant coach at Santiam Christian High School for the boy's basketball team from 1989-93. He then became a women's basketball assistant at George Fox under former head coach Sherri Murrell, helping the Bruins to a 37-23 overall record and two NAIA post-season appearances. Additionally, he coached the women's tennis team in 1995-96.

Basketball runs in the Rueck family. His sister, Heidi, was an NAIA All-American point guard at George Fox, setting the school records in career, single season and single-game assists and was eventually voted into the school's Sport Hall of Fame in 2005. His father, Marv, was a part of the coaching staffs at Hillsboro and Glencoe High Schools and was the inaugural head coach at Glencoe when it opened in 1980.

Rueck earned a bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science from Oregon State in 1991, while adding a master's in physical education in 1992. He is married to the former Kerry Aillaud, and the couple has three children, Cole, Kate and Macey. Kerry played basketball for George Fox from 1993-95, while serving as assistant coach for the program from 1998-06.

1998-2000: Assistant Coach (Men's)

Jonas Chatterton, who has 12 years of experience as a Division I assistant and has been on the bench for five trips to the NCAA Tournament, was hired as an assistant coach in June 2014.

Chatterton's first season with the Beavers proved to be the best year in school history, as Oregon State set a new school record with 27 wins, won its first ever Pac-12 title and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Along the way the Beavers also earned a number of impressive victories, including a road win over No. 6 North Carolina, a pair of wins over No. 12 Arizona State and a victory over California to lock down the conference championship.

Under Chatterton, three Beavers earned All-Pac-12 First Team honors in 2014-15, as Ruth Hamblin, Jamie Weisner and Sydney Wiese were all recognized by the conferences' coaches and media.

The Salt Lake City native came to Corvallis by way of Colorado, where he was on staff for four seasons, including the last as associate head coach. During his time in Boulder, the Buffaloes won 83 total games and made postseason appearances each year, highlighted by an NCAA Tournament run in 2013. Chatterton played integral roles in recruiting, opponent scouting, post development and putting together Colorado's offensive and defensive schemes.

He helped the Buffaloes to WNIT quarterfinal appearances in each of his first two seasons and a trip to the third round in 2014. The 2011-12 squad enjoyed its first 20-win season in eight years (21-14) and also marked the first back-to-back winning seasons for Colorado since 2003-04. In his first year at CU, the Buffaloes were 18-16, including wins over a pair of ranked teams.

One reason for Colorado's upswing was the development of its front court. Among many, Chatterton helped forward Arielle Roberson to 2013 Pac-12 Freshman of the Year honors.

He was valuable on the recruiting trail for CU as well, helping the Buffaloes acquire the 27th best recruiting class in the nation in 2012, according to ESPN.com's HoopGurlz, a class that included a pair of national Top 100 recruits.

Before heading to Colorado, Chatterton spent eight highly successful seasons as an assistant coach at BYU (2001-09). While in Provo, the Cougars compiled a 157-89 record (.638), won two Mountain West Conference regular-season titles (2006-07), one MWC Tournament crown (2002) and went to the NCAA Tournament four times.

Chatterton's success has garnered the coach national recognition and he has been part of a select group invited to Nike's renowned Villa 7 Consortium each of the last two years, which brings together university athletics directors and the country's elite assistant coaches in an effort to prepare the next generation of college basketball leaders. Less than 10 percent of women's basketball assistants from the nation's nearly 350 Division I programs have received invitations to the exclusive event the past three years, which has grown to become one of the most respected gatherings for professional development and networking in the country.

Prior to joining BYU, Chatterton spent two years as an assistant men's coach at Westminster College, an NAIA school in Salt Lake City (1998-2000) where he helped revive a program that had been discontinued in 1979.

He received his bachelor's in exercise and sport science from the University of Utah in 2000. He played one year of basketball for Rocky Mountain College (Mont.) before transferring to Utah.

Prior to arriving in Boulder, Chatterton took one year off from collegiate coaching (2009-10), working as the Director of Sales and Marketing for OrthoRx Inc, a medical supply company in San Diego. He remained involved in basketball as a coach for the Cal Swish Basketball Club of Orange County.

Chatterton has a daughter Josie and he and his wife Cami have a daughter, Celia, and a son, Hudson.

Her first two seasons on Scott Rueck's staff have been the best years in school history, as the Beavers won 24 games in 2013-14 before setting new a school record with 27 wins in 2014-15. Close helped the Beavers win their first ever Pac-12 title in 2015, and has coached the team to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances, as the team made its first return to the tourney since 1996.

Among numerous responsibilities, Close works closely with Oregon State's guards, prepares opponent scouts and also serves as the program's recruiting coordinator.

Guards Sydney Wiese and Jamie Weisner have thrived under Close's tutelage, with both players earning All-Pac-12 First Team honors in 2014-15. Wiese and Weisner both earned Pac-12 Player of the Week honors over the course of the campaign, and Weisner earned national recognition on Jan. 27 when she was named ESPNW National Player of the Week.

Close also helped Wiese, Weisner and Ali Gibson reach significant milestones during the Beavers' historic campaign. Wiese became Oregon State's all-time leader in 3-pointers in just her second season of college basketball, while Gibson and Weisner became the 17th and 18th players in school history to reach the 1,000 point mark. Wiese, Gibson and Weisner all ended the 2014-15 campaign in Oregon State's top-five for 3-pointers made, and Wiese and Weisner sit one-two on OSU's career 3-point percentage list.

In 2013-14 the guards under her tutelage collected three All-Pac-12 nods in Wiese, Weisner and Gabriella Hanson. Wiese, the first OSU freshman since Tanja Kostic in 1993 to receive a spot on the All-Pac-12 Team, made a school-record 112 3-pointers, a number which is the most for a Pac-12 freshman, second overall in single-season conference history, tied for 20th in NCAA single-season history and tied for fourth among NCAA freshmen all-time.

Weisner hit 55 3-pointers and was second on the team in scoring at 12.5 points per game. Hanson stepped up big time in conference action, averaging 9.7 points and 5.2 rebounds, and led the league by shooting 48.1 percent from behind the arc against Pac-12 opponents. Both earned All-Pac-12 Honorable Mention accolades.

A native of Bozeman, Mont., Close honed her coaching skills on the bench at Montana State for a half decade, helping the Bobcats finish with a .500 record or better each year and aiding in the development of 12 All-Big Sky honorees. With Close, MSU players also earned two nods as the Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year, a Big Sky Newcomer of the Year selection, 33 Big Sky All-Academic picks and one choice as a Kodak/WBCA All-America Honorable Mention.

At MSU, Close handled an array of duties from recruiting, game strategy, scouting, guard development and community service. She also filled roles as the coordinator of the Bobcats' offense, defense and academics.

In her final year in Bozeman, Montana State made its seventh consecutive Big Sky Conference Tournament appearance, finishing with a 17-13 overall record. The Bobcats were fourth in the league in scoring margin (+2.3) and second in steals (10.9/game).

During the 2011-12 campaign, MSU held opponents to 28 percent from 3-point range and 37 percent from the field. That season the team was also first in the Big Sky in defensive rebounds per game, averaging 30.4 each contest.

As the Bobcats' point guard coach, Close developed MSU freshman Ausha Cole into the Big Sky Conference leader in assists to turnover ratio as well as the leading 3-point field goal percentage shooter in 2010-11.

Prior to the 2010-11 season, Close was instrumental in the development of two-time Big Sky All-Conference point guard Erica Perry. Under her direct supervision, Katie Bussey had an impressive debut season and was named Big Sky Conference Freshman of the Year in 2008-09. Bussey went on to be selected as a First Team All-Conference performer and broke a number of school and conference scoring and shooting records in 2011-12.

The Bobcats' academics were also steady under Close's supervision. MSU's team GPA was nationally ranked by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) three times during her tenure. Montana State was 11th in that category in 2011-12, 12th in 2010-11 and an fourth in 2008-09.

Close returned to Corvallis where she spent four seasons as a player (2003-06) and two as the program's assistant director of operations (2007-08). A two-year team captain, she played in 121 total games at OSU and ended her career with an outstanding senior campaign, averaging 13.3 points and dishing out 149 assists as the Beavers advanced to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT).

During that senior season, Close scored in double figures 23 times and led the Beavers with 4.8 assists per game, second in the Pac-10 and 46th in the nation. She played 3,423 minutes over her four-year career, including every minute in 16 games as a senior.

Her 289 career assists are 11th in program history and her 149 in 2005-06 are the fifth-most for any OSU senior. Close's 84 career 3-point field goals also place her 11th in the Beaver record books.

Close was also a three-time Pac-10 All-Academic honoree and a CoSIDA/ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District selection in 2005-06. She had her most memorable game in a Beaver uniform on Jan. 25, 2006 in a 63-61 Civil War victory. On that night Close scored 16 points on 7-for-13 shooting against the Ducks, including going coast-to-coast for the game-winning layup with 3.4 seconds remaining.

Like Rueck, Close has earned two degrees from Oregon State; one in human development and family sciences and the other in elementary education. At Bozeman HS, she was a two-time basketball all-state selection, four-time track all-state selection and a volleyball all-state selection.

Eric Ely completed his fifth season as an assistant coach for the Oregon State women's basketball program in 2014-15.

In his five years in Corvallis, Ely has mentored some of the best post players in the Pac-12, highlighted by a trio of Pac-12 All-Defensive Team centers who own four of the top eight best single-season shot block totals in conference history.

The lineage started with El Sara Greer in 2010-11, who swatted what was then a school record 92 shots and averaged 9.2 points and 8.1 rebounds while shooting 56 percent from the field. One year later, Patricia Bright eclipsed Greer and tallied 115 rejections, converted 57.9 percent of her attempts from the floor and put up 8.7 ppg.

The run on dominant centers culminated most recently with Ruth Hamblin, who set a school and Pac-12 single-season record with 141 blocks in 2013-14, before setting the Beavers' career record for rejections in 2014-15. The Canadian became the Beavers first All-American in over a decade in April of 2015, when she was named to the AP All-America Third Team. Hamblin also earned Pac-12 Player of the Year (Media) honors, as well as consensus Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year and All-Pac-12 First Team plaudits. She also produced the first triple-double at Oregon State in 30 years on Jan. 13, 2014 against Oregon with totals of 23 points, 12 rebounds and a school-record 10 blocks.

Ely owns over 15 years of Division I coaching experience, with nine coming from stints at Oral Roberts (1998-2004 and 2007-10) and Missouri (2004-07). He helped Oral Roberts to four postseason appearances, including three NCAA trips under head coach Jerry Finkbeiner. At Missouri, Ely served as the recruiting coordinator and worked with post players under head coach Cindy Stein.

In just his first season with the Golden Eagles in 1998-99, Ely helped coach the team to the Summit League title and the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. When Ely rejoined the Oral Roberts staff, the Golden Eagles repeated as Summit League champions, winning 23 games en route to the school's first ever regular-season Summit League title and a trip to the Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT).

Before joining Oral Roberts, Ely was the head coach at Mt. Vernon Nazarene University in Mt. Vernon, Ohio from 1996-98. He guided the Lady Cougars to a 31-36 overall record in two seasons, improving from 12 wins during his inaugural year to 19 in 1997-98. In his final season at MVNU, Ely was honored as the National Christian College Athletic Association East Region Coach of the Year and also received votes from the Ohio Coaching Association as one of the top women's college coaches in the state of Ohio.

Ely started his coaching career at his alma mater, Northwest Nazarene in Nampa, Idaho, where he served as assistant coach from 1987-1996. He was instrumental in the recruitment of several NAIA All-Americans and helped the Lady Crusaders to a NAIA Division II runner-up finish during the 1994-95 season.

As a player, Ely spent time in NBA training camp with the Detroit Pistons and played in the Los Angeles Lakers' summer pro league. He played professionally for one year in France, where he was tabbed as the Outstanding American Player by the French media during the 1980-81 season, and four years in Brazil, earning a lifetime contract and garnering all-star status in 1984 and 1985.

Ely earned a bachelor's degree from Northwest Nazarene in 1982, adding a master's degree from Albertson College of Idaho in 1995. He and his wife, Regina, of Belo Horizonte, Brazil, have two children, C.J. and Rachel.

Rissmiller spent the last seven seasons as the head coach of Pacific (Ore.), leading the team to back-to-back winning seasons in 2012-13 and 2013-14. The University of Portland graduate also led the program to one of the best seasons in school history in 2008-09, when Pacific finished third in the Northwest Conference en route to its first appearance in the league's postseason tournament since 1996.

During her time with the Boxers, Rissmiller coached six All-Northwest Conference players, including a pair of two-time honorees.

Prior to taking over at Pacific, Rissmiller spent three seasons as head coach of Tacoma Community College, heading up a substantial turnaround in the program, as the team finished 18-11 in 2006-07 after going 1-19 in her first year with the squad. In her time at Tacoma, Rissmiller led the team to an NWAACC Playoff Tournament appearance, and saw a pair of players selected to the NWAACC All-West Region Team.

Prior to her stint in Tacoma, Rissmiller spent one season as the head women's basketball coach at Clark College in Vancouver, Wash., and one season as the head junior varsity coach at Sunset High School in Beaverton, Ore. She also spent one season coaching Team Concept, a northwest AAU program.

Liz Clark joined the Oregon State women's basketball program as the Director of Player Personnel in the summer of 2015.

Clark came to Corvallis from Sun Valley, Idaho, where she lived from 2008-2015. During her time in the Gem State, she spent six years as the Health and Wellness Director for the Wood River Community YMCA, where she managed a fitness center serving over 3,000 members, supervised over 60 different programs, and worked on fiscal planning and budget management. Clark also spent over a year working as the Sawtooth Orthopedics and Sports Medicine Coordinator, managing the clinic's operations.

A 2001 graduate of Eatonville High School in Washington, Clark served as an assistant coach under Scott Rueck at George Fox for the 2005-06 season, and coached high school basketball in Bonn, Germany in 2007, and in Hailey, Idaho from 2009-11.

Clark was a decorated three-sport athlete at Eatonville High, and played for Rueck at George Fox. She captained the Bruins to an Elite-Eight appearance in 2005, and was part of the 2004-05 squad that was inducted into the George Fox Hall of Fame in 2015. After her exceptional collegiate career, Clark went on to play professionally in Germany during the 2006-07 campaign.

CAROL MENKEN-SCHAUDT

NATIONAL SCOUTING ASSOCIATION ALL-AMERICAN, 1980

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NEWS SERVICE ALL-AMERICA HM, 1980

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, FIRST TEAM, 1981

Oregon State's first All-American, Carol Menken, earned three letters for the Beavers from 1979-81. A native of Jefferson, Oregon, Menken transferred to OSU after playing one season at Linn-Benton Community College. She was named Kodak All-America after guiding her team to a 22-6 record her senior season when she led the nation in field goal shooting with an incredible .750 percentage. She is second all-time at OSU for scoring (2,243) and rebounding (901), first in field goal percentage (.692), and leads in per game averages for both scoring (27.7) and rebounding (12.5), after playing just 81 games. Menken also holds the school mark for single game scoring, with 51 points against Alaska-Anchorage in the 1979-80 season. She shares the single game rebounding high of 20 boards with Brenda Arbuckle and Natalia Mattick. During her career at OSU, Menken was a three-time Northwest College Women's Sports Association All-Conference selection (1980-82). She went on to win the gold medal in the 1984 Olympic Games as a member of the U.S. team and played professionally overseas for several years. In 1988, Menken was named to the OSU Athletic Hall of Fame.

JUDY SPOELSTRA

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, SECOND TEAM, 1983

Judy Spoelstra played two seasons for the Beavers from 1982-83, and was chosen Kodak All-America at the end of her senior year in 1983. A native of Wenatchee, Washington and a transfer from Washington State, Spoelstra held the single season (1983) assist record at Oregon State for 10 years and now ranks fifth with 173. For several years, she also ranked 10th on the all-time career chart for assists after playing just two seasons at OSU. Her 14 assists versus Santa Clara in the 1982-83 season stands second on the OSU single-game assist chart. Spoelstra earned first-team NorPac All-Conference honors her senior season and in 1994, she was named to OSU's Athletic Hall of Fame.

JULI COLEMAN

JULI COLEMAN

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NEWS SERVICE ALL-AMERICAN,

FIRST TEAM, 1985

OSU's third All-American, Juli Coleman, lettered at Oregon State from 1982-85. She was selected Women's Basketball News Service All-America her senior year. A native of Issaquah, Washington, Coleman was Oregon State's all-time leading free throw shooter with a 77.4 percentage after four seasons. She still holds the single game record for steals with 10, set in the 1983-84 season. Coleman was named to the NorPac All-Conference team three times, including first-team honors twice. She also excelled academically and is one of only three OSU players to ever receive CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. Coleman received honorable mention Academic All-America accolades twice, and second-team honors her senior year. She was inducted into the OSU Athletic Hall of Fame on September 13, 2003.

TANJA KOSTIC

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICAN, 1996

Tanja Kostic became OSU's fourth All-American following the 1996 season. She was a consensus All-American, having been named either first or second team on every squad that was announced after the 1995-96 season. She was selected first team by United Press International Basketball America and College Sports Magazine, second team by the Associated Press and honorable mention by WBCA/Kodak. Kostic finished her OSU career as a four-time All-Pacific-10 Conference pick and a two-time selection as Player of the Year. She was named Pac-10 Player of the Week eight times in her four seasons, tied for second in conference history. Kostic scored 2,349 points and hauled down 1,001 career rebounds, both OSU records. She is the third-leading career scorer in the Pac-10, behind Stanford's Candice Wiggins (2,629) and USC's Lisa Leslie (2,414). Kostic set OSU and Pac-10 records for free throws attempted (903), free throws made (608), and an OSU record for field goals attempted (1,773). She ranks 12th in Pac-10 career rebounding.

FELICIA RAGLAND

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, HONORABLE MENTION, 2001, 2002

Felicia Ragland became the first Oregon State player since Tanja Kostic (1996) to earn Kodak All-America honors after a stellar season in 2001. A native of Tulare, California, Ragland led the Beavers in scoring with 19.7 points per game and rebounds with 7.4 boards per outing. The junior guard tallied seven double-doubles on the season and reached double figures in scoring on 27 occasions. Ragland was named Pacific-10 Conference Player of the Year and garnered honorable mention Associated Press All-America status as well as District VIII Kodak All-America honors. She also collected honorable mention Kodak All-America honors, honorable mention Associated Press and District VIII All-America honors for a second consecutive year at the completion of her senior season in 2002. Ragland led the Beavers and the Pac-10 in scoring with 19.9 points per game while pulling down a team-best 6.6 rebounds. She tallied 20-plus points 13 times and was the only Pac-10 player to surpass the 30-point barrier on four occasions. Ragland finished her stellar career as the OSU leader in 3-point field goals made (178) and ranks in the top 10 in 14 career statistical categories. She is only the third player in Oregon State history to score 1,500 points (1,803) and pull down 600 rebounds (739). Ragland became the first Beaver player drafted by the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) when she was selected as the 28th pick overall by the Seattle Storm in April 2001.

OREGON STATE HISTORY

Women's basketball at Oregon State actually got its start before organized competition began. The first women's game was played in 1898; the first men's contest in 1901.

That game bore little resemblance to modern day basketball, however. The court was divided into three zones, each containing two players from the two teams. The divisions included areas for guards, centers and forwards. A center jump was held after every basket and no one was allowed to leave their zone.

Scores were low in that era - in 1914, for example, Oregon State beat Oregon by a 10-8 score.

By the 1930's, there was a change in philosophy in women's sports. Competition, per se, was discouraged. On the other hand, mass participation via class instruction and intramurals was encouraged. That philosophy prevailed until the early 1970's although women's basketball was organized as an extramural and club sport in the late 1950's.

1899-1900 Oregon State women's basketball team

No school in the Northwest was quite as successful as Oregon State University. Competing against clubs from other schools, Oregon State teams went undefeated from 1959 to 1966.

Basketball became an intercollegiate sport for women in 1972, when the newly organized women's athletic department started competition as a charter member of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). Teams competed in the Northwest College Women's Sports Association (NCWSA), Region 9 of the nine-division AIAW. Accurate records, however, were not kept in women's basketball until the 1976-77 season, when Mary Covington coached the Beavers.

The women's program joined the Pacific-10 Conference in the 1986-87 season and has remained a member ever since.

GILL COLISEUM

Legendary Gill Coliseum is the home of the Oregon State men's basketball, women's basketball, women's gymnastics, wrestling and volleyball teams. The arena can handle crowds of 9,604 for competitions on Ralph Miller Court, and the building also includes a weight room, equipment center, locker rooms and offices for the athletic department and its teams.

Named after the late Slat Gill, who was Oregon State's head men's basketball coach for 36 years, the Coliseum is an excellent facility spanning more than an acre.

Gill Coliseum was recently renovated with improvements totaling more than $3.5 million. The renovation included sandblasting, sealing and painting the exterior shell and new exterior windows and doors. Additionally, an elevator was installed to increase access for students and fans with disabilities.

Gill Coliseum also has a state-of-the-art sports medicine center, located on the lower level, that provides leading-edge injury prevention and rehabilitation services. The center includes cardiovascular equipment and improved training facilities.

The renovation project also upgraded Gill's locker rooms. While a new men's basketball locker room was already completed, a new women's basketball locker room is now open with improvements to the volleyball and soccer locker rooms also being done.

With the improvements, Gill Coliseum continues to be an integral part of the heritage of Oregon State athletics. Since its opening in 1949, Gill Coliseum has been part of more than 3,000 victories, more than 150 Oregon State All-Americans and more than 25 individual and team titles.

OREGON STATE TRADITIONS

NICKNAME -- THE BEAVERS

In the early days of the institution, Oregon State University's athletic teams were known as the Aggies. When orange uniforms replaced the drab sweatshirt gray and tan jerseys, the teams were referred to as the Orangemen. In 1916 the school yearbook was renamed "The Beaver" and the name Beaver became associated with the school. It is believed the press also had some influence in changing the name, particularly L.H. Gregory of The Oregonian newspaper. The name gained instant popularity among alumni and students. The Beaver is the state's official animal.

THE MASCOT -- BENNY

Benny Beaver was adopted as Oregon State University's mascot in 1952 after the school had a reported three previous mascots. The first mascot in 1893 was a coyote named Jimmie, owned by M.M.H. Kriebel. In 1909, a second mascot appeared on the scene. Dr. John Bell, a Corvallis pastor and former regent of Corvallis when the college was taken over by the state and became Oregon Agricultural College, became the OSU mascot. In the early 1900s, "Doc Bell" was considered to be the varsity football squad's "mascot" because of his steadfast attendance and advising. In 1921 there was an attempt to make a live Beaver, "Bevo", into the school mascot, but with little success.

Benny Beaver, OSU's current mascot, was introduced to the student body by the school's rally squad on September 18, 1952, in an effort to pick up sagging school spirit. "Benny Beaver, the rally squad's candidate for handsomest man in school, has never been on campus before," according to The Barometer (student paper), at the time. "The animal stands six-feet tall, wears vivid orange knickerbockers, a black jersey, and his familiar orange and black rooters lid." Adopted as the official mascot in 1952, Benny Beaver still fires up the crowds at OSU athletic events today.

Benny Beaver, while officially accepted as the school's mascot in 1952, actually can be traced back to the 1940-41 school year. A statue of a beaver named "Benny" appears in the school's yearbook, and later a Barometer sports columnist used the pen name "Benny Beaver."

TEAM COLORS -- ORANGE & BLACK

Oregon State was known as Corvallis College until the mid 1890s and the school color was navy blue. A faculty committee appointed by school President John Bloss voted to replace blue with orange. Not long after, black was selected by the student body as a background color. A local tailor named J.H. Harris donated black uniforms for the baseball team in this time frame, and it is believed to be where the black color scheme began in athletics, although that is debatable. An article in the local Corvallis Gazette-Times in 1892 describes the use of orange and black in commencement ceremonies, nearly a year prior to orange becoming the official color.

While orange was originally the official color, over the years black has become more universally accepted as one of the official colors. Today, nearly all of OSU accepts black and Pantone 165 orange as the official colors.

THE FIGHT SONG

*OSU our hats are off to you,
Beavers, Beavers, fighters thru and thru,
We'll cheer thru-out the land,
We'll root for every stand,
That's made for old OSU.
Watch our team go tearing down the field;
Those of iron, their strength will never yield.
Hail! Hail! Hail! Hail!
Hail to old OSU*

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY

Oregon State University has always been a place with a purpose — making a positive difference in quality of life, natural resources and economic prosperity in Oregon and beyond. Through discovery, innovation and application, we are meeting challenges, solving problems and turning ideas into reality.

Founded in 1868, Oregon State is the state's Land Grant university and is one of only two universities in the U.S. to have Sea Grant, Space Grant and Sun Grant designations. Oregon State is also the only university in Oregon to hold both the Carnegie Foundation's top designation for research institutions and its prestigious Community Engagement classification.

As Oregon's leading public research university, with $263 million in external funding in the 2013 fiscal year, Oregon State's impact reaches across the state and beyond. With 12 colleges, 15 Agricultural Experiment Stations, 35 county Extension offices, the Hatfield Marine Sciences Center in Newport and OSU-Cascades in Bend, Oregon State has a presence in every one of Oregon's 36 counties, with a statewide economic footprint of $2.06 billion.

Oregon State welcomes a diverse student body of over 26,000 students from across Oregon, all 50 states and more than 100 countries. They can choose from more than 200 undergraduate and more than 80 graduate degree programs, including over 30 degrees online offered through Oregon State Ecampus. Oregon State increasingly attracts high-achieving students, with nationally recognized programs in areas such as conservation biology, agricultural sciences, nuclear engineering, forestry, fisheries and wildlife management, community health, pharmacy and zoology.

Oregon State also ranks high in sustainability, fourth among universities nationwide for using renewable energy and first in the Pac-12 Conference. And our students literally help power the university: 22 exercise machines at Dixon Recreation Center are connected to the grid.

The 400-acre main campus in Corvallis includes a Historic District, making Oregon State one of only a handful of U.S. university campuses listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The district includes such icons as Weatherford Hall, the Memorial Union and Benton Hall, the oldest building on campus.

Oregon State is located in Corvallis, a vibrant college town of 55,000 in the heart of Western Oregon's Willamette Valley. Corvallis consistently ranks among the best and safest cities to live in the U.S., as well as among the most environmentally responsible.

Dr. Edward J. Ray became president of Oregon State University on July 31, 2003. He received the 2013 CASE District VIII Leadership Award.

Under his leadership, OSU has completed and updated a visionary campus-wide strategic plan that has served as the framework for the university's development in profound and historic ways. Annual research awards and contracts have increased substantially and totaled nearly $263 million in fiscal year 2013.

President Ray partnered with the OSU Foundation to launch the university's first comprehensive fundraising campaign. The public phase launched in October 2007 with a goal of $625 million. By the end of March 2014, the campaign total reached $1.021 billion, including $173 million for scholarships and fellowships, 77 newly endowed faculty positions, and funding for key scientific and learning facilities like the Lois Bates Acheson Veterinary Teaching Hospital, the Hallie Ford Center for Healthy Children and Families, The Linus Pauling Science Center, the International Living Learning Center, a renovated Furman Hall for the College of Education, the Graduate Studies Center at the OSU-Cascades Campus and four new cultural centers. Because of the campaign's tremendous momentum and success, it has been extended to 2014 with a goal of $1 billion.

Mindful of OSU's commitment to the people of Oregon, Dr. Ray has overseen the expansion of dual-enrollment agreements to all 17 of the state's community colleges, making it easier for students to complete four-year degrees. He has also taken a leadership role in fostering a more seamless P-20 system, working with area school superintendents, community college leaders and university colleagues to strengthen institutional connections and enhance the student experience. Dr. Ray has also helped to usher in a new era of partnership and cooperation between Oregon's public universities. In Central Oregon, an effort to expand OSU-Cascades by 2015 to a robust four-year branch campus of Oregon State has begun, thanks to strong state and community support and financial investment.

In addition to his work at OSU, Dr. Ray's leadership extends to many organizations. He serves on boards of the American Council on Education and the Association of American Colleges and Universities. He was elected vice-chair of the board of directors of the AAC&U for 2014 and will chair the board in 2015. Dr. Ray also is involved with leadership in intercollegiate athletics and recently served as chair of the CEO Group of the Pac-12 Conference and the Enforcement Working Group for the National Collegiate Athletic Association. His nearly three-year term as the NCAA's Executive Committee chair ended in August 2012.

Dr. Ray was a member of the economics faculty at Ohio State from 1970-2003, serving as economics department chair from 1976 to 1992. He served as associate provost from May 1992 until May 1993, senior vice provost and chief information officer from 1993-1998, and executive vice president and provost from 1998-2003.

His research interests include the history of protectionism in the United States, the determinants of U.S. foreign direct investment and foreign direct investment in the United States, the structure of tariff and non-tariff trade barriers in the United States and abroad, and the adoption of Social Security. His work has been published in The American Economic Review, The Journal of Political Economy, The Quarterly Journal of Economics, The Review of Economic Studies, The Review of Economics and Statistics, and other leading journals. He has co-authored a principles text, and his book, "U. S. Protectionism and the World Debt Crisis," was published by Quorum Press in 1989.

Dr. Ray received his undergraduate degree in mathematics from Queens College (CUNY) in June 1966, graduating cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa. He earned his master's in economics from Stanford University in 1969 and his doctorate in economics from Stanford in June 1971.

Dr. Ray's wife Beth passed away in March 2014. He has three children and three grandchildren.

Todd Stansbury was named vice president and director of athletics at Oregon State University June 18, 2015, rejoining the Pac-12 Conference institution after serving as the Beavers' executive associate athletic director from February 2003 to January 2012. He officially began his new role Aug. 1, 2015.

"Todd is committed to high-level athletic achievement by competing and winning championships the right way - the Oregon State way," OSU president Ed Ray said upon Stansbury's hiring. "He is very skilled at growing fan excitement and engagement, and will guide the success of our student-athletes in sports, academics and community."

During his previous tenure at Oregon State, Stansbury was part of the senior leadership team that led a renaissance of Oregon State athletics. The Beavers played in eight bowl games; the baseball team won two College World Series titles; and nearly every program advanced to postseason play while Stansbury was in Corvallis during his first stint. He was also instrumental in fundraising for the $150 million Reser Stadium expansion, the reintroduction of the women's track and field program, the renovation of Goss Stadium at Coleman Field, and the construction of the Sports Performance Center, the Beth Ray Student Success Center, the OSU Boathouse and the Whyte Track and Field Center.

While the 54-year-old Stansbury has led high-profile coaching searches, facility expansion and construction projects during his athletics career, he also has been instrumental as a leader of student-athlete

Without Borders; resurrected the Varsity Knights program; and partnered with several local and national student-athlete leadership and achievement programs.

Stansbury's first role as a director of athletics came in July of 2000 when he was hired at East Tennessee State University. He initiated and implemented a program-wide strategic plan and reorganization while completing numerous infrastructure and capital projects, including the development of a state-of-the-art golf practice facility and the expansion of the athletic training facility into an outpatient rehabilitation center. In addition to numerous athletic accomplishments, ETSU was recognized by USA Today for increasing the graduation rates of its student-athletes while under his direction.

Stansbury began his professional career as a banker in the asset-based lending division of Citizens and Southern National Bank in Atlanta before returning to the Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech), his alma mater, as an academic counselor for football in 1988.

As the assistant athletic director for academics at Georgia Tech, he was responsible for the overall development and management of the educational support program for student-athletes. This platform was a major component of the Homer Rice Total Person Program, which was adopted nationally by the NCAA Foundation and Division I-A athletic directors as the NCAA Champs/Life Skills Program. Georgia Tech was consistently recognized nationally for its graduation rates while Stansbury served in this capacity.

In 1995 Stansbury left Georgia Tech to become the global coordinator for the Institute for International Sport. In this capacity he and his wife, Karen, spent 16 months traveling around the world promoting the 1997 World Scholar-Athlete Games and developing a global network of educators, sport organizations and government leaders.

Upon his return to the U.S. in 1996, Stansbury worked for Southern Network Services in Birmingham, Ala., as the manager of internet business services where he developed the business plan for the new internet services division.

He returned to intercollegiate athletics in 1997 at the University of Houston, serving as associate athletic director. His responsibilities included NCAA compliance and student-athlete support services. He also served as the primary liaison to the university's administrative units. Under his direction the student-athlete support program was transformed and recognized by USA Today for increasing graduation rates.

The Oakville, Ontario, native attended Georgia Tech on a football scholarship where he lettered as a linebacker and graduated with a B.S. in industrial management in 1984. He was a third round draft choice of the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League. He later completed a M.S. in sports administration at Georgia State University in 1993.

Married to the former Karen Hammond of Easley, S.C., the Stansburys' interest in the outdoors and travel has led to a number of adventures including trekking the Himalayas of Nepal, tracking the mountain gorilla in the Congo (Zaire) and sailing the Whitsunday Islands of Australia.

Stansbury is among the most experienced administrators in the NCAA. His work includes serving on numerous national and conference boards, including the Football Oversight Committee, the American Athletic Conference Finance Committee and several UCF boards.

With his leadership skills, wealth of experience and integrity, Oregon State athletics will continue to be a source of pride for Beaver Nation and be a competitor for conference and national championships while maintaining a strong emphasis on academic excellence.

growth on and off the field. He is part of a team that developed several key lifespans career development initiatives at OSU. These include the Everyday Champions program which encompasses the Leadership Institute, Varsity OSU and the international service program Beavers Without Borders, among others.

Between his tenures at Oregon State, Stansbury served as the vice president and director of athletics at the University of Central Florida in Orlando from March 1, 2012 through June 18, 2015. He led the Knights to a successful transition from Conference USA to the American Athletic Conference where UCF won three titles in its initial year in the new league. Among those three championships was the football team's historic 12-1 season in 2013 that culminated in a No. 10 Associated Press final national ranking after defeating Baylor in the Fiesta Bowl. UCF also was the only Division I program in 2014-15 to win conference titles in football, volleyball, women's soccer and softball.

Academically, UCF teams combined for 15 consecutive terms with a department 3.00 GPA or higher with Stansbury at the helm. Under his leadership, the Knights boasted a 95 percent graduation rate, the top score among public institutions at the Division I level. In addition, he developed the Institute for Student-Athlete Leadership that included Knights
