79. Commencement

Professor Delmer Goode
Editor of Publications
Campus

Dear Professor Goode:

In reply to your letter of April 23, will say that it is my impression that Mr. Lemon plans to carry out your suggestion of a very brief inauguration during the commencement exercises. This would consist of a few induction remarks by the President of the Board and a very brief reply by myself.

Sincerely yours,

A. L. Strand

Dr. A. L. Strand
President
Campus

Dear President Strand:

Recently you indicated that, under war conditions, you do not wish to have a ceremonial inauguration as President, and you invited this office to give consideration to some suitable mention of the installation of the new President in connection with the 1943 Commencement. We have given thought to a plan of sending out, with either the Commencement invitations or the programs, a formal Board announcement. This appears to be at this late date a rather belated and ineffective procedure.

It is our suggestion that a brief ceremonial presentation of the President by the president of the Board be a part of the 1943 Commencement exercises. This simple ceremony would be an item in the program of exercises; copies of the program pamphlet would then be mailed to other colleges and universities and other institutions and individuals who would normally be invited to participate in a formal inaugural. If this plan meets with your approval, it is suggested that arrangements for the brief ceremony might appropriately be made by Mr. Lemon as chairman of the Commencement Committee.

If this plan does not seem satisfactory to you, we shall be glad to have opportunity to investigate other possibilities. In our judgment the installation of a permanent President of Oregon State College is too significant an event to be passed over without some official observance.

Yours sincerely,

Delmer Goode

DECEMBER 1943 COMMENCEMENT NOTES

For the first experience with the mid-year commencement, this program was reasonably satisfactory. The main assistants in handling the entire affair were E. D. Meyer, D. T. Ordeman, E. B. Beaty, R. O. Coleman, and T. Krawiec.

The platform arrangement was good. Space was provided for 37 chairs, and there was adequate room for those who participated in the program to operate. The decorations, which consisted entirely of the palms, seemed to be quite adequate for this time of the year.

The procession, which consisted of the official party, members of the Administrative Council, and the graduates including the certificate group in the ASTP, formed in the Memorial Union. In the gymnasium the faculty and those receiving Baccalaureate degrees proceeded down the south aisle and the certificate people the north aisle. This arrangement was followed largely because this division provided fairly good balance.

The procession entered promptly at 7:30 p.m., and the program ended at 9:00 o'clock. The address was about 15 minutes longer than had been intended. Otherwise, the entire program went about as planned.

INTRODUCTION TO AWARDING CERTIFICATES AND CONFERRING DEGREES

This graduation program is a deviation from the usual practice. The change has been inaugurated for two reasons. First, so many young men and women are going directly from college to the military services it could not be expected that those graduating now would be able to return for the regular commencement in June. Secondly, we are proud of the large number of splendid young men in uniform who are studying with us in the Army Specialized Training Program, and we would not want those who are finishing that course of study to leave the campus without first receiving appropriate recognition.

Proceed immediately to Card No. 4.

The number of soldiers qualifying for the Army Specialized Training Program certificate is 91. These men have completed the course of study in engineering prescribed by the army. 55 are in mechanical engineering and 36 in civil engineering.

The number of degrees to be conferred is 59. Of the latter group, about half completed requirements at the close of the summer session. Many of these could not be here tonight and their degrees will be conferred in absentia. We are happy to confer degrees on 11 members of the Army Specialized Training Unit. These soldiers have been on the campus since the beginning of spring term last March and have completed the residence requirements. They had three or more years of college training at other institutions prior to entering the military service. These credits, with those earned here, entitle them to the appropriate degree in engineering. Others in uniform who are to receive degrees are members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps who have been permitted to continue their studies to graduation.

SENIOR HONOR STUDENTS

Those to receive Bachelor's degrees whose achievements in scholarship have been outstanding may be named senior honor students. As indicated on page 2 of the program, four of those graduating tonight have been so designated. As each name is called, the student will please rise and remain standing.

AWARDING OF CERTIFICATES

I shall now ask Colonel Webster, Commandant of the Army Specialized Training Unit, to present the soldier group who have qualified for the Army Specialized Training Program certificate.

STATEMENT TO CERTIFICATE GROUP

It is our sincere hope that the training you have received here will be of real value to you not only in the military service you may render but in your chosen fields of endeavor after you have been returned to civilian life. It is realized that you have encountered some confusion and uncertainties but you have been diligent in pursuing the courses of study to which you were assigned. We are glad that it has been our lot to have had a small part in your training. If you will come forward at this time, the Colonel will present you with your certificates.
You may be seated until certificates are distributed.

In witness whereof you will be presented with your diploma, signed by the constituted authorities of Oregon State College.

MARCH 1944 COMMENCEMENT NOTES

This program again demonstrated that it is more difficult to handle a stream-lined program of an abbreviated nature than the regular annual event. People simply do not take the procedure seriously enough to have it well in hand. It is a mistake to attempt to make anything of the ceremony unless we have a rather complete rehearsal in which all of our graduates participate.

The attendance was excellent, the auditorium being perhaps 90 percent filled. The handling of the crowd and of details of arrangement were satisfactory.

The following items should be checked carefully before the next program.

1. Dr. Strand sat down before the flags were posted, creating an awkward situation.
2. Although I discussed with Dr. Weniger the procedure in presenting the advanced degrees, both he and Dr. Strand were in doubt when the time arrived.
3. Some of the soldiers slipped out the back door immediately after receiving certificates.

INTRODUCTION TO AWARDING CERTIFICATES AND CONFERRING DEGREES

This graduation program is the second to be held during this academic year. Another will be held in June. Ordinarily, degrees are conferred but once a year. Because of the accelerated program which the College has been following, more students than usual complete requirements at the close of terms ending other than in June. Since many will be going into war service immediately, participation in a graduation ceremony would be denied them unless events such as this were held. Since March of last year, it has been our privilege to have a large delegation of men in uniform on the campus in the Army Specialized Training Program. As is the case tonight, a considerable number complete this training at the close of each term, and we do not want them to leave the campus without first receiving appropriate recognition.

The number of men now completing the full course of study prescribed by the army is 239. Of these, 31 are in Electrical Engineering, 47 in Mechanical Engineering, 49 in Civil Engineering, and 112 in Area and Language Studies. Of the latter group, 26 have completed the course in French, 25 in German, 31 in Russian, and 30 in Spanish.

Proceed immediately to Card No. 5.

Since the army program is being discontinued except for a relatively small number, we take this occasion to express appreciation of the privilege which has been ours in having all of these boys with us and express regret that their course of training has been cut short. We must recognize, however, that such changes are a part of the uncertainties of war.

The number of degrees to be conferred is 94. Some of these people have already been released in order that they might enter important work. For this reason, not all are present tonight. Included in the degree group are 19 members of the Army Specialized

I shall now ask Colonel Webster, Commandant of the Army Specialized Training Unit, to present the soldier group qualifying for the Army Specialized Training Program certificate.

STATEMENT TO CERTIFICATE GROUP

Regardless of the assignment which may come to you as you leave the campus, we believe you will find that your training here will prove helpful to you, not only during your military experiences but after you have been returned to civilian life. We wish the program might have been more effective, but at best, confusion and uncertainties prevail in wartime. If we have been able to render you some small service, we are indeed glad that it has been our privilege to have you with us.

If you will come forward at this time, the Colonel will present you with your certificates.

You may be seated until certificates are distributed.

Dear Mr. Lemon:

I want to thank you and members of your Committee on Graduation for the very fine refinishing job which has been done on our Hammond organ.

Mr. Meyer did an excellent piece of work, and completely removed all traces of the damage done. As you know, I was very much concerned over the appearance of the organ after the last trip to the graduation program, and I do sincerely appreciate your having it taken care of so satisfactorily.

I shall be glad to let the organ go out for future programs, under the conditions Mr. Meyer has explained to me; that is, that he will be responsible for it from the time it is taken out until it is returned to us.

Thank you again for having it refinished so nicely.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Wigglesworth:

This office is informed that your organ has been refinished and returned to your home. We trust the work has been done in a manner satisfactory to you.

It has been our opinion that many of the scratches on the instrument were not chargeable to use at the College, but since there was some possible damage we wanted to do more than our part in making a satisfactory adjustment. Since you submitted a claim covering this damage, will you now be so kind as to forward us a statement indicating that this claim has been satisfied.

We appreciate your allowing us to use the instrument from time to time and hope that you will be willing for this practice to continue.

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen:

I submit statement for expenses in connection with rent of our Hammond Electric Organ for the Commencement program, June 17, 1944, as follows:

Rent of organ.....	$15.00
Cost of refinishing organ as a result of damage while rented for this program. (See attached letter from Sherman, Clay & Co.....	50.00
Estimated freight charges to Portland and return for refinishing job.....	10.00
Total.....	75.00

In explanation of this, I will say that we expected that our organ would be carefully looked after, or we should not have allowed it to be taken out of our house. I believe that on previous occasions it was handled carefully, but even so, it did get a few light scratches. I was assured that no harm would come to it this time. However, it was returned to us in such a damaged condition that I think it is only fair that the College assume the cost of refinishing the organ. It was previously agreed that I would be notified when the organ would be delivered, and so arrange to be at home at the time. However, it was returned while I was away. As soon as I returned home on that day, Monday, June 19, I discovered the damage and at once called Prof. Petri.

The next day I asked Mr. M. V. Neuman, who I believe is recognized as the best furniture refinisher in Corvallis, to come and look at the organ, which he kindly did. This was for the purpose of giving us an estimate of the cost of repair. After noting the damage done, Mr. Neuman stated that the only possible way of repairing it was a complete refinishing job, which he is not prepared to do. He suggested that I write to Sherman, Clay & Company, where the organ was bought, as they were equipped to do that kind of work. Mr. Neuman will verify this statement, if you desire it. I then wrote to Mr. Frank Alexander, head of the organ department at Sherman, Clay & Company, and in reply received the attached letter.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of the organ, we would be glad to have you come in and see it. It is a very expensive and beautiful musical instrument, and naturally our most prized possession. We wish to have it refinished as soon as possible. I believe that you can see that the College must assume responsibility for the damage done, and therefore should pay for the cost of refinishing the organ.

Respectfully submitted,

I believe that on previous occasions it was handled carefully, but even so, it did get a few light scratches. I was assured that no harm would come to it this time. However, it was returned to us in such a damaged condition that I think it is only fair that the College assume the cost of refinishing the organ. It was previously agreed that I would be notified when the organ would be delivered, and so arrange to be at home at the time. However, it was returned while I was away. As soon as I returned home on that day, Monday, June 19, I discovered the damage and at once called Prof. Petri.

The next day I asked Mr. M. V. Neuman, who I believe is recognized as the best furniture refinisher in Corvallis, to come and look at the organ, which he kindly did. This was for the purpose of giving us an estimate of the cost of repair. After noting the damage done, Mr. Neuman stated that the only possible way of repairing it was a complete refinishing job, which he is not prepared to do. He suggested that I write to Sherman, Clay & Company, where the organ was bought, as they were equipped to do that kind of work. Mr. Neuman will verify this statement, if you desire it. I then wrote to Mr. Frank Alexander, head of the organ department at Sherman, Clay & Company, and in reply received the attached letter.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of the organ, we would be glad to have you come in and see it. It is a very expensive and beautiful musical instrument, and naturally our most prized possession. We wish to have it refinished as soon as possible. I believe that you can see that the College must assume responsibility for the damage done, and therefore should pay for the cost of refinishing the organ.

Gentlemen:

I submit statement for expenses in connection with rent of our Hammond Electric Organ for the Commencement program, June 17, 1944, as follows:

Rent of organ.....	$15.00
Cost of refinishing organ as a result of damage while rented for this program. (See attached letter from Sherman, Clay & Co.....	50.00
Estimated freight charges to Portland and return for refinishing job.....	10.00
Total.....	75.00

In explanation of this, I will say that we expected that our organ would be carefully looked after, or we should not have allowed it to be taken out of our house. I believe that on previous occasions it was handled carefully, but even so, it did get a few light scratches. I was assured that no harm would come to it this time. Dear Mrs. Wrigglesworth:

I was sorry to learn of the damage to your Hammond organ. I assume from your letter that the console alone will need re-finishing. The cost of doing this would be $50.00.

As to the transportation from Corvallis to our shop and return, this cost would have to be secured from a motor transport company that would handle that type of freight.

I hope this is the information you will require.

Dear Dr. Hart:

It is our conclusion that the College commencement program should be streamlined again this year in order not to consume any unnecessary time. It has therefore been decided to restrict our activities largely to a vesper baccalaureate service on the afternoon of Sunday, June 10, to be followed by the graduation exercises that evening.

It has occurred to us that at the regular morning services on June 10 your church, along with other Corvallis churches, might appropriately include some baccalaureate feature in honor of any members of the graduating class who may have been affiliated with your congregation during their stay here. We shall be glad to have your reaction to this suggestion.

Dear Dr. Strand:

Your letter of June 19 to the Commandant of the Thirteenth Naval District was forwarded to me for my attention. Thank you for writing this nice letter and saying the nice things that it contained.

As I told you after the exercises, this was the nicest and best-run commencement that I have ever witnessed. Everything went off in great shape. I particularly enjoyed the fine singing and the musical effects.

Please thank Mrs. Strand and your lovely daughter for the delightful supper which I enjoyed so much at your house. Thank you also for your kind over-night hospitality.

All in all, my experience on the campus of your university was delightful, and I shall remember it for a long time to come.

With best wishes for you and yours,

Respectfully and cordially,

I want to tell you how much we appreciated having Commander Charles J. Frisbie as our commencement speaker on June 10. He not only carried out very appropriately and effectively the mission he has to perform relative to civil readjustment, but he also had a fine message to the graduating class and to their parents and friends in attendance. He was a delightful person to have on the campus and we wish to thank you for making his time available.

Dear Dr. Strand:

to Beattie
Your letter of 25 May was received today and I should like to answer a few things in it immediately. First of all, my picture. The enclosed is the best available at the moment. It has been reproduced before, so perhaps your publicity department can use it.

As to the topic of my address, it will consist mostly of a few remarks and observations on life and how to get along in life. Remarks addressed to those young people who are just starting out. I think, perhaps, we'd better call it just an address and not give it a title or indicate the topic.

Please inform me as soon as possible at what time you expect me at Corvallis. As the commencement exercises are in the evening, as I understand they are, I plan to leave on the 8:00 train from Seattle, get a Navy car in Portland and arrive in Corvallis by 5:30 p.m., Sunday, June 10. If no arrangements have been made for a speech on Monday, I will spend that day at the hospital in Corvallis, still using the Navy car, and then, on Tuesday, will drive to Salem, make the speech there, taking the late train out of Portland for Seattle on Tuesday evening, June 12.

I hope these arrangements are satisfactory.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Commander Frisbie:

I have delayed answering your letter of May 15 until I could get in touch with Mr. George Aiken, the Governor's Executive Secretary, through whom we contacted you in the first place. Either Mr. Aiken or I was to arrange for a speaking date for you on Monday, June 11, the date intervening between our commencement, June 10, and your speaking date in Salem on June 12. Mr. Aiken is evidently very ill and has not been able to be in the office for many days. I doubt if he has made any arrangement and this letter is to state that although I haven't made a date for you either, we will see that your time is well occupied.

I shall be very happy to make sure that you have the necessary transportation while you are in the state. If you would let us know when you are arriving in Portland, if that is by train, I or someone will meet you there to bring you to Corvallis.

Our publicity department is asking for your picture. We should appreciate receiving a glossy print if you have one available. Also, we should like to know your topic that it may be included in the program. However, if you prefer we can indicate it as an address, omitting the specific title.

Dear Dr. Strand:

Will you excuse me for not answering sooner your nice letter of May 4 inviting me to speak at the Commencement Exercises of Oregon State College on Sunday, June 10. The reason for my delay is that I wanted to be quite sure that the District Civil Readjustment Officers would not have a conference in Washington, D.C., in June. I received today a telegram from the Capitol stating that there would not be any such conference. Therefore, I am happy to be able to tell you that I can accept your kind invitation.

I received yesterday a letter from Mr. E. B. Lemon and I am enclosing a copy of this letter to you. As June 11 912 soon as you have made arrangements for Monday and Tuesday, I will be glad to learn about them so that I can make my orders correspond with the schedule that you map out. Being in the vicinity of the new Navy hospital in Corvallis, I will want to visit my Civil Readjustment Officer there.

With kind regards.

Dear Commander Frisbie:

I was very glad to learn from Mr. George Aiken, Executive Secretary to Governor Earl Snell, that you could come to Oregon for our commencement exercises on Sunday, June 10. Our commencement has been somewhat telescoped this year, for we are having it all on one day. Short vesper baccalaureate services will be held about four o'clock and the commencement program will be in the evening.

Between Mr. Aiken and me, some arrangement will be made for you to speak on Monday. I am not sure whether it will be here or in Salem. I shall be very happy to take you to Salem on Monday evening or Tuesday morning as it may work out.

I don't know how well acquainted you are with Oregon State College. The institution was founded in 1868 and is typical of the larger land grant institutions. In addition to the Lower Division, which is Liberal Arts, we have eight schools - Engineering, Forestry, Agriculture, Home Economics, Business and Industry, Education, Science, and Pharmacy. In peace times we had about 3300 men and about 1500 women. Now we have about 1500 women and four or five hundred men, 100 of which are returned veterans.

As the Naval Hospital is so close to us here, we expect to invite some of the personnel from there to the exercises.

Sincerely yours,

1944 Commencement Notes

Commencement Luncheon, 1944:

Because the baccalaureate program was scheduled at 4:00 P. M., preceding the commencement exercises at 8:00 P. M., the same day, it was inadvisable to arrange the usual luncheon or similar event. Furthermore, the Benton Hotel, the only suitable place for such an event, stated this year that help was insufficient to serve the kind of meal we would want.

As a substitute, Mr. and Mrs. Lemon personally entertained at dinner out-of-town guests and a very limited number of faculty members. Those present were:

Mr. & Mrs. H. A. Bork	Mr. Willard Marks
Dr. & Mrs. C. D. Byrne	Dr. & Mrs. E. M. Pallett
Dr. & Mrs. F. A. Gilfillan	Mr. & Mrs. Rex Putnam
Dr. & Mrs. U. G. Dubach	Mr. Clyde Williamson
Dr. & Mrs. G. W. Peavy	Mrs. Sheldon Sackett
Dr. & Mrs. Wm. C. Jones	Dean Kate W. Jameson
Miss Beryl Marks	Miss Lucy Lewis
Mr. & Mrs. E. B. Lemon

Note: The cost paid by E. B. Lemon, personally, was:

24 Plates @ $1.35.....	$32.40
Flowers.....	6.00
Tips.....	3.00
Total.....	$41.40

Tickets to Commencement and Baccalaureate

Because of the times and small number in the graduating class, no tickets were issued for the baccalaureate service. For the commencement exercises, two types of tickets were used--special guest tickets and senior guest tickets.

The demand for senior guests was much heavier than anticipated. The attendance at commencement was much larger than expected and had tickets not been used some dissatisfaction would have developed.

1944 Commencement Notes

Special Guest tickets were distributed for commencement as follows:

Name	No. of Tickets	Name	No. of Tickets

OPENING STATEMENT

On behalf of President Strand, the faculty, and the graduating class, we extend you a most cordial welcome to this seventy-fifth annual commencement program. We are appreciative of the obstacles encountered in attending such events in this period of emergency, and are gratified that those of you who are here could be with us.

We are particularly pleased that honored guests on the platform have found it possible to take time from their many duties to be present tonight. We are always happy to have members of the State Board of Higher Education visit the institution. Two members of the Board, the President and the Vice-President, are here.

INTRODUCTION OF MR. MARKS

Because of his deep interest in the College as one of the units of the State System of Higher Education and the close proximity of his residence to the College, President Marks is a frequent visitor to the campus. While we are always glad to have him with us, we are especially pleased that he is here tonight to witness the graduation of his fine daughter who has made a splendid record during her four years as a student at this institution.

The Honorable Willard L. Marks.

INTRODUCTION OF MRS. SACKETT

Likewise, we are most happy to have Mrs. Beatrice Walton Sackett with us again as the official representative of the State Board of Higher Education, and to ask her to extend greetings on behalf of the Board.

Mrs. Sackett.

DR. HUNTER

Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, Chancellor of the State System of Higher Education was scheduled to present a brief message to the graduating class at this time, but because of illness he is unable to be present.

He asks me in his behalf to extend sincere greetings and best wishes to all of those receiving degrees tonight.

INTRODUCTION OF HONORED GUESTS

1. The Secretary of the State Board of Higher Education,
DR. C. D. BYRNE
2. MR. REX FUTNAM, State Superintendent of Public Instruction
3. Representing the University of Oregon,
DR. EARL M. PALLETT, Executive Secretary and Registrar
4. President of the Oregon College of Education and Director of Elementary Teacher Training for the State System of Higher Education, DR. C. A. HOWARD
5. DR. GEORGE W. PEAVY, President Emeritus.

INTRODUCTION OF PROFESSOR FULTON

6.

And one who is not a guest, but one whom we take special pleasure in presenting. In 1940, Professor John F. Fulton retired from active duty as head of the chemistry department at this institution. He did not, however, lose interest in his life-long field of endeavor, and has continued to come to his laboratory on the campus daily and to render service valuable to the institution.

The close of this school year marks the end of fifty-one years of service as a member of the College faculty. Professor Fulton, we recognize you as one of the substantial and valued pioneers responsible for much that is Oregon State College today. We realize that merely presenting you is doing you but small honor, but, nevertheless, we take real satisfaction in doing so.

INTRODUCTION OF SPEAKER

For the commencement address, it is our privilege to introduce a colleague in Oregon higher education in recent years, but who has assumed a position of marked responsibility in another state. Formerly with Willamette University and later head of the department of political science at the University of Oregon, Dr. Jones on June 1 became president of Whittier College, Whittier, California. We extend our sincere congratulations on his selection for that important post and wish him success in his new position.

We are happy to present him for the address this evening, his subject being "We Hold These Truths". Dr. William C. Jones.

GOLD STAR LIST

On page 5 of the printed program is the College Gold Star list in the present war. This list is as complete as is known to date.

May we stand for a moment in silent tribute?

INTRODUCTION TO DEGREE CONFERRING

The number of degrees to be conferred tonight is 223. This figure is considerably below normal, and only about one-third of the number conferred on a similar occasion one year ago. The reason for this decline is recognized and needs no explanation. However, we should make clear that until 1943-44, degrees have been conferred but once each year. During the emergency period, we have held graduation exercises at the end of each term since so many of the graduation go immediately into military service. Adding to those who are to receive degrees tonight those who were graduated at the December and March commencements, the total for 1943-44 is 376. Statistics in this regard are presented on page 4 of the printed program.

By action of the College faculty, it has long been the policy to recognize graduating seniors who have excelled in scholarship. As indicated on page 6 of the program, nineteen of those graduating tonight have been named Senior Honor Students. The number which can be so selected is limited to ten per cent of the group graduating from any school.

As each name is called, the student will please arise and remain standing. In order to save time, we ask that you withhold applause until the entire group has been presented.

AWARDING OF CERTIFICATES

A unique experience of this school year has been the privilege of having on the campus a large number of young men in uniform in the Army Specialized Training Program. At one time more than thirteen hundred soldiers were attending classes on the campus, but as the intensive training for the great struggle of war which appears to be reaching a climax neared, the number in this type of training was reduced. Still here, however, are one hundred twenty in advanced engineering and a group of some forty in the seventeen-year old class.

In the engineering group, thirty are completing the prescribed course of study of seven terms' duration in Electrical Engineering. Of this number, five are qualifying for the regular Bachelor of Science degree, and twenty-five the certificate.

Major Black, acting for Colonel Webster, will no present the certificate group.

STATEMENT TO CERTIFICATE GROUP

Young soldiers, our pleasure at having had you with us had already been expressed. It is regretted that your stay is coming to an end, but we realistically recognize the demands of war. We hope that the training we have assisted you in obtaining may prove helpful to you and to our country. We have every confidence that you can give an excellent account of yourselves, and we wish you God-speed.

CHARGE TO THE CLASS

Members of the class of 1944, many of you, perhaps most of you, understand why President Strand is not here to participate in your graduation program. Dr. Strand and his family are in the East in order that they might witness a few days ago the graduation of the elder son, James, from the United States Naval Academy. Ensign James Strand is to be assigned to immediate duty and will not get to return to the home here at this time. Parents who are here tonight will readily understand why the family wanted to be at Annapolis. However, I am happy to present a brief statement from President Strand which was received today.

"In normal times I would regret very much being away from the campus on commencement day. Even though some of us on the faculty are inclined to take commencement as a matter of course, actually we know how important this day is to the members of the graduating class and their parents. However, as a parent I was interested in a commencement program on the other side of the continent this year, and I am sure you will forgive my absence.

"I wish to thank the students and the officers of their several organizations for their adaptability and resourcefulness shown this past year in meeting very unusual conditions. That of course is one thing we should expect of educated persons, and we will need a lot of this in coming years. But it is not always forthcoming in the spirit you have demonstrated. Let us hope that the good news from the war fronts continues and that it will not be many more months until we will be back on a peacetime basis, and all our energies can be converted to the repair of a badly war-torn world.

"My greetings and sincere thanks to the faculty for their earnest labors during a rather trying year. My greetings and regards to parents, alumni, and friends of Oregon State College assembled for this occasion. And my congratulations and best wishes to all of those receiving degrees."

Signed: A.L. STRAND

INTRODUCTION OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The president of the Oregon State Alumni Association, Mr. Clyde Williamson, of the class of 1908, will now administer the alumni pledge, which is printed on page 8 of your programs.

COMMENCEMENT NOTES - 1945

MUSIC

March too slow for receipt of diplomas.
"Seraphic Song" too long (15 minutes) for Commencement.

DECORATIONS

No comment.

USHERING

Ushers and marshalls should hold the Academic Procession at the main floor entrance till it has closed rank so that differences in walking speeds will not be noticeable after the procession has entered the main floor.

One hundred (100) more programs would have supplied the need.

Direction by the loud-speaker or the President should be given to the audience to sit during the procession.

Prowling photographers should be given permission badges so that ushers can recognize those who have a right to prowl.

DEGREE
CONFERRING

Criticism of length of march after receipt of degrees and rebuttal that entire audience should see at close range.

Renewed criticism of hooding of Masters because of time consumed and failure to show colors in the hoods.

Suggest that reading of names of Masters be eliminated entirely but that Doctors' names be read with the other customary remarks.

EXHIBITS

No comment.

PUBLICITY

No comment.

PHYSICAL FACILITY

Closeness of chairs regretable but necessary to care for audience.

More delicate control of loud-speaker system should be maintained.

MARSHALLS

More needed with a more serious attitude toward their duties.

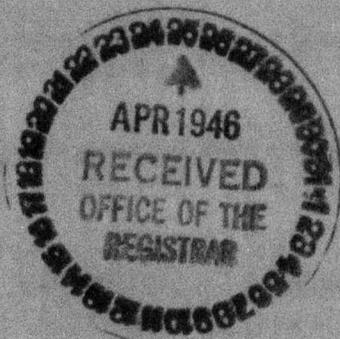

Faculty section displayed too many light articles of clothing.

NURSERY

No comment.

GENERAL

Baccalaureate could be longer; Commencement should be shorter.

1945 COMMENCEMENT NOTES

Over all the program was perhaps as good as can be expected under the circumstances under which the program must be conducted in these times. The commencement program was too long. Two main causes may be noted. First of all there was too much program, and secondly it was not expedited sufficiently, particularly in the matter of distribution of diplomas and hoods. Perhaps the Serafic Song should be returned to Baccalaureate regardless of circumstances because it is too long for commencement. While this beautiful piece of music is appreciated by all, there was restlessness last night, particularly among the graduates. In the distribution of diplomas the March which was used was too solemn and too slow. The ceremony should have been completed in much less time. The route of march clear around the auditorium and in back of the bleachers was too long considering the number of people involved. The delay came in seating rather than getting them up to the platform for diplomas. Next year, whoever handles the hoods should have a practice session in advance. The delay last night was noticeable. Dubach did not adjust a single hood so that the colors were displayed. This detracted somewhat from the general appearance of the procession.

At the Baccalaureate, the seniors were seated as soon as a row was filled. All others in the auditorium were standing. The result was that during the Invocation the Bachelors candidates were the only ones seated. This was an awkward arrangement and brought forth some criticism. The correction was made for the Commencement.

A change this year which impressed me as being effective was that of having the different school groups seated as soon as they were presented for degrees by the dean. The President then asked all to rise to confer the degree. This is a plan which should be continued.

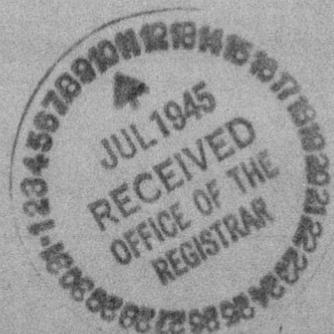

Another modification, that of reading the names of the Masters at the time of presentation rather than as they come to the platform, was perhaps effective but time consuming. The possibility of eliminating the reading of names of all large groups should be considered.

The Flag Ceremony at Commencement would have been much more effective if the colors had been brought down the center aisle. All of the auditorium could then see the March of the Colors.

The Commencement program got underway promptly at eight o'clock, but did not end until ten-fifteen. At different times we have completed the program within the two hours when six hundred or more candidates received diplomas. The main improvement to strive for next year is more speed.

RECEIVED

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE
OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Pres. A. L. Strand,
O. S. C. campus.

Dear Mr. Strand: - I greatly appreciate your letter of Dec. 20 regarding the activities of a Gift Committee. I am glad too that in the last sentence you encouraged me to make further suggestions.

You surely realize as I do that Utah had procured a means of encouraging gifts - but took another forward step by appointing a special committee to better organize their efforts.

When you aided me, by turning the favorable decision regarding the Price Collection, there was no helpful group to help promote our effort.

When I have attempted to secure gifts for the College Museum the same or worse difficulties have arisen and even the University with a single $1.00 a year solicitor has defeated some of my most promising prospects.

When I have attempted to secure aid in finishing the murals for the Library or promoting memorials in the M. U. building I have run into competition rather than into mutual assistance. The excuse being always lack of funds. Of course I know the significance

The enclosed clipping from a recent news paper is typical of some things our committee could be made aware of. I know large institutions have paid solicitors like Mr. Benton of University of Chicago (recorded in Life Jan 14) but wonder if efficient help could not be secured in volunteer service or in retired individuals on part time.

The soldier dead need memorializing and their families have ready money that would help if our program made provision for it.

A prominent lawyer told me that many wills his firm make out could well contain clauses that would make O.S.C. beneficiary if proper provision were promised.

Prominent business men like Doug. McKay & Clyde Williamson would be very helpful. Ex. governors and senators would make helpful committee-men.

Perhaps some enthusiastic and influential women would promote O.S.C. as a suitable recipient of gifts.

I feel certain that an enthusiastic group could be selected to work under your direction in a most appealing program.

Thanking you for your careful consideration

I am,

Sincerely,

J. Leo Fairbanks

Farm Home Receives Legacy of $19,000

All of his property both real and personal, valued at $19,000, with the exception of that needed for administrative and burial expenses, has been willed to the Children's Farm Home in Benton county by George E. Warner who died December 19 in Albany, where he had been making his home.

The will was filed in probate court in Albany Wednesday and L. L. Swan was named executor. The property is reported to include real estate valued at approximately $7,5000 and personal property worth probably $11,500, according to the probate petition.

Members of the board of the Farm Home are to meet at the home for their annual meeting on Saturday, January 12. It is expected the gift to the home will be included in the reports given at that time.

Professor J. Leo Fairbanks

Dear Professor Fairbanks:

Thanks for your note relative to a gift committee and also for the information in the News Letter of the University of Utah. The manager of the Alumni Association and this office have discussed in the past this matter of cultivating gifts and doubtless we could be much better organized to promote that development. In general, however, the acceptance of gifts and really the solicitation of them, when that seems desirable, falls on this office as it doubtless should. If the institution is going out after gifts, it really need a professional person to work at it. Institutions that seek gifts regularly employ full-time people at good salaries to promote this activity. We can't afford to do that but we can probably improve our present setup. I am glad to have your suggestions.

Sincerely yours,

A. L. Strand
President

Dear Pres. Strand:-

would it not be advantageous if
O. S. C. had an official committee to receive and to encourage gifts to the State College similar to the committee herein described?

Sincerely,

J. L. Fairbanks

How the New Fund Works

With an eye toward the further development of the facilities to insure broader educational opportunities and service to students and alumni members of the University of Utah, activities of the Alumni-University of Utah Development Fund have now been moved into high gear.

This organization has been set up with the approval of members of the Utah Alumni Association and the Board of Regents of the University to encourage gifts to the University of money, property, works of art, historical papers and documents, and museum specimens having educational, artistic or historical value from sources other than those from which the State of Utah ordinarily makes appropriations, and to administer and receive such gifts.

Behind this movement is a board of capable directors who represent the Alumni Association, the University of Utah administration, the Board of Regents and the general citizens.

Under the Constitution of the fund, a group of 15 directors is charged with soliciting, receiving or administering gifts of as little as $1. to any larger sum in accordance with the stipulated wishes of the donor or they shall determine the use of these funds in increasing the opportunities made available through the University.

The Alumni-University of Utah Development Fund was established last May. A Constitution for the organization was written and approved and directors were selected by a vote of the Board of Regents and the Board of Control of the Alumni Association.

Prior to the creation of this Fund, there had been no organization to receive and administer the gifts of business organizations or individuals.

In addition to this duty, the newly created body will present the opportunity to all—business or individuals—to aid in the development of this state institution either through the contribution of gifts or of all types of grants.

"Section 5. Funds for operating expenses. The operations expenses of the Development Fund shall be defrayed by funds from the following sources: (a) Direct contributions to the Development Fund made specifically for the operating expenses of the Development Fund; (b) Appropriations made by the Board of Control of the Alumni Association from its funds; (c) Appropriations made by the Board of Regents of the University of Utah.

"Section 6. Disbursements: Disbursements from any and all funds received by the Development Fund and deposited through the Treasurer of the Development Fund may be made only as ordered and directed by the Board of Directors of the Development Fund."

In the past, many friends of the University have lived and died without contributing to the development of their state university or alma mater. This has been the case because no organization has been ready to call their attention to the needs of the University, and subsequently thousands of dollars has been lost by this lack of foresight.

For a great number of years, other colleges and universities throughout the United States have had development projects to which all can contribute. It has now become necessary to organize a similar institution to keep pace with the rapid advancement of educational facilities and with the high standards that the University seeks to maintain. This Fund has become necessary to keep the University among the leading schools in the country.

Every contribution, whether as small as $1 or large enough to endow a school, can now be efficiently handled through the facilities offered by the Fund. It is also noted that 100 per cent of the gift will go to the purpose for which it was given and not for the operation of the Development Fund organization. All operating costs of the Fund are obtained from other sources. This setup assures the donor that everything he gives goes directly to the advancement of the University in a way either designated by him or for some project selected by competent directors who have made a study of the problems and are aware of the needs of the institution.

Large returns will come from these contributions in the form of new developments in industry and agriculture, advancements in the standard of living, greater development of the natural resources of Utah's industry and countless other ways that will lead to better living.

The organization of this Fund has been patterned after those of other institutions that have proved themselves effective and efficient over a great number of years. The directors, alumni and Board of Regents are certain of its success and are confident that many friends of the University will want to aid in the development of higher education.

Every wish of the donor will be carried out to the fullest and he will be kept fully informed as to what progress has been made with his contribution.

Every contribution, whether large or small, will lead to the betterment and increased facilities of this state institution and a greater opportunity for all who have foresight and ambition.

OLPIN COMES TO U JANUARY FIRST

In less than 60 days, Dr. A. Ray Olpin, present director of the research foundation of the Ohio State University, will assume his duties as president of the University of Utah.

Dr. Olpin, who was appointed president by the Board of Regents of the school on August 10, of this year, pledges that he will strive to help the University experience a new era of growth and greater service to the people of the State through the opportunities offered by the school.

Dr. Olpin is an advocate of a thoroughly rounded education, including proficiency in the humanities and in social subjects as well as in the sciences. He will attempt to make the University of even more service to industry, agriculture and to the general prosperity of the state.

Dr. Olpin is a native of Pleasant Grove, Utah, where he was born June 1, 1898. He was graduated from Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, in 1923 and received his doctorate degree at Columbia, in 1930.

After graduating from the BYU, Dr. Olpin held a teaching fellowship at Columbia University for a year before he became a member of Bell Telephone Company's Research staff, a position he held until 1933. He has served also as research director for the Kendall Cotton Mills in North Carolina, and as a member and acting chairman of the Research Advisory Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers. So outstanding has been his work in the field of scientific research and experiment, that his department at Ohio State University has received millions of dollars from some 250 business institutions, seeking help on their research problems.
