DESCENDANTS OF

DAVID BROOKS AND MARY JANE MORGAN BROOKS

David and Mary Jane Brooks were married in Iowa, January 1, 1851 and came to San Francisco in the year 1869. <sup>BY TRAIN</sup> After a short stay they came to Portland <sup>BY BOAT</sup> with their family of four sons and two daughters and took up a homestead April 10, 1876.

They first lived on the place known as the Sam Tunstall place. At that time this place was owned by a sister to Mrs. Dave Brooks' sister Melinda Roberts and her husband John. John and Melinda Roberts had four children, three of which died with diphtheria shortly after the arrival of the Brooks'. The remaining boy, Charles, grew up with the Brooks' boys.

David Brooks bought a section of land, homesteaded 160 acres. The grandchildren still own a part of this land.

They had to go to Portland for such important things as shoes, boots, powder and lead for hunting purposes.

Rails were split and as land was cleared for farming a fence was built around it. They first lived in a log cabin built on the place now owned by William Siedow. A house was built of lumber a few years after this on the Lewis Brooks farm across from Motz. The lumber was carried on their shoulders from Springville. Shakes were cut for shingles by a froe and mallet.

The farm work was done by a team of oxen named Buck and Bright.

Both boys and girls were crack shots and kept the family in meat, which they did not have to go far from the house to get. Deer and wild birds were plentiful.

The six children were educated in a log school house near the place where the Linders live. It was the Joe Lenard place.

A part of the present site of the Skyline School was donated by David Brooks for that purpose. The school was known for a good many years as the Brooks school.

The nearest store was near the St. Johns bridge approach. It was then called Springville, Basel Emes was the storekeeper. Groceries were carried home on ones shoulders over a cow trail through the timbered mountain.

There were some Indians living around at that time. They were all friendly.

2

Grandpa said the only way to keep the Indians from taking everything laying around loose was to show them what you had. They knew he remembered he had it and where it was and left it alone.

The place was covered with heavy virgin timber and wild animals were seen at all times. Young fawn were often tamed.

They often rowed a boat from Springville, (St. Johns) to Portland. There was only one store which was Mier and Franks, a one room building. Later another store, Farm and Mechanics, and other industries sprung up and in time a street car drawn by a horse was used on the main street.

Their family were all married except the youngest boy John, and some of them lived on parts of the old homestead where most of their children and grandchildren still live. The others moved away.

William Milton Brooks was married to Elizabeth Millar and they had a family of ten children, seven girls and three boys.

George Lewis Brooks was married to Lucretia Gatton. To them were born eight children, five boys and three girls.

Armilda Brooks was married to Amund Munson and they were the parents of thirteen children, nine boys and four girls.

Thomas Jefferson Brooks was married to Christena Dietz and had a family of five, three girls and two boys.

Melinda Brooks was married to Charles Kyle and had a family of six, three girls and three boys.

When grandad and grandma came West the country was pretty much wildness with few neighbors and they craved a good home for their family. The wilderness eventually disappeared and built up. More and more people moved in until now if our ancestors were to return they would never recognize the old home place.

Grandad and grandma passed away many years ago and so have all their children.

Family of George Lewis Brooks and Margaret Lucretia Gatton
 Som of David Brooks, son of Benjamin, son of First David.

George Lewis Brooks was born in Iowa Dec 18, 1855. Margaret Lucretia Gatton was born in St. Johns, Oregon June 16, 1858. They were married in St. Johns on March 24, 1880. Grandfather rented Grandpa Gatton's (Wm) dairy farm and ran it with her brother Thurston. G. L. had worked for his father-in-law a year before marriage. When Jennie and William were small they moved up on the hill. Later moving back to help run the farm. Then they moved back on Skyline to run his own farm which he had bought from his father.

Grandfather (G.L.) lived on his farm until his death Feb. 10, 1923 ~~February 10, 1923~~. He engaged in general farming. He also had a small tobacco patch. His smoke house often held smoked smelt to tempt the grandchildren, as did the bins of apples stored for winter.

Their first house burned when Jennie was about 16. The furnishings were a total loss as a great deal of ammunition and blasting powder were stored in the house making it unsafe to enter. Grandma had a trunk full of heirlooms and among them a tea set given to her Grandmother as a wedding present from Martha Washington.

Lucretia contracted a severe case of measles and died Jan. 30, 1904 at the age of 46.

The Munson Family Tree

Amund Munson was born in Norway on Feb 12, 1843 and came to the State of Oregon on a sailing ship in 1860. He settled on a farm approximately five miles from the town of Linnton. On what was later to be known as the Munson Farm.

On the 13th day of August 1879 Amund Munson married Armilda Brooks who was born at Cedar Rapids, Iowa Nov. 11, 1857. She came west at the age of twelve with her parents, David and Jane Brooks. They homesteaded 620 acres near Linnton. The large Brooks School is now located on a portion of this farm. (It is known as Skyline School)

Amund and Armilda had 13 children, 11 of whom lived to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Armilda passed away March 30, 1932 and Amund passed away Feb 28, 1934.
