RADIO COVERAGE
For the fourth straight year, KLOO Radio (1340 AM in Corvallis) will broadcast seven home Pac-10 Northern Division games during the 1986 season. KLOO Radio Sports Director Pat Lafferty will provide the play-by-play. Airtime will be on the hour as the starting time of the game will be delayed five minutes for the broadcast pre-game. Only the first game of the listed doubleheaders will be broadcast with the exception of the Washington State doubleheader, which will be aired in its entirety. The following games are scheduled for broadcast:

Let the meek be warned, the man molds winners. Oregon State head baseball coach Jack Riley has a great knowledge of the game of baseball. Better yet, he knows how to convey it and get the most out of the talent that shows up at Coleman Field annually. It's the competitive fire in this spry veteran of 25 years in coaching that makes him, and the players he motivates on the field, earned a Top 20 ranking and came back from a regular season one without a senior, went undefeated through the prestigious Riverside Baseball Invitational tournament.

In two of the most dramatic finishes in Pacific-10 baseball history, his Beavers overcame Washington State to capture the 1982 and 1983 Northern Division pennants. Having already sent 10 proteges off to the professional ranks in this decade, Riley meshed together a very youthful group last year and came within two games of a third straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. Last year, another young squad, one without a senior, went undefeated through the prestigious Riverside Baseball Invitational tournament, earned a Top 20 ranking and came back from a regular conference season third place finish to win the Northern Division's post-season tournament and advance once again to the NCAA Western Regionals.

He was selected Northern Division Coach of the Year in 1982 and 1983. In 1982, he had taken the honor all the way to the regional level and one of the nine nominations for national coach of the year.

Riley is a 1960 graduate of Linfield College and holds a Masters degree from Oregon State received in 1967. After a great athletic career at Portland's Grant High School, not in baseball, but basketball, he became the first player in Linfield history to be named all-conference four straight years. His collegiate days were also spent on the diamond with three all-conference honors and, as a senior, the NAIA stolen base crown. Following his graduation, Riley was drafted by the Los Angeles Dodgers and played for their Salem farm club from 1961 through 1963.

Riley has a wide coaching background which began at Portland's Jefferson High School. He served as an assistant with the baseball and basketball programs until he was named head basketball coach and led the Democrats to the state's final four twice.

From Jefferson, it was on to Lower Columbia College as head baseball and basketball coach and athletic director in Longview, Washington. During his tenure at LCC, his baseball teams won four straight Coastal Division championships, while winning the state title in 1970. His overall record there was 97-31.

Upon arriving in Corvallis in 1972, Riley remodeled a tradition-rich program into one of the most successful and dedicated in the country. His record of 340-226 in those 13 years is impressive and actually overshadowed by a home mark of 156-64 (71%) at Coleman Field. In the last five years, OSU is 80-22 at home (78%).

Jack and his wife, Jean, have two sons, Mike, 26, and Mickey, 24. They also have one daughter, Pam, 22.

CONSECUTIVE HOME RUNS

One mark that may never be eclipsed at OSU — Beavers Darryl Summerfield, Dave Heniges, Karl Weide and Ron Boly homered in consecutive at bats during a 1966 game vs Oregon. Not only did they put that together in the 7th inning, but they repeated the unusual feat again in the 10th inning of the same game.

OSU'S LONGEST WINNING STREAK

Back in 1951, enroute to the Northern Division championship of that year, Oregon State baseball compiled the longest winning streak in the school's baseball history. The Beavers won 18 straight before finally losing to Washington State in Pullman, 7-3. Gene Tanselli, former OSU head coach, was a star senior shortstop for that team.

Coleman Field Home of the Baseball Beavers

All of the Beavers’ home games are played at Ralph Coleman Field, located on Washington Way, next to the Dixon Recreation Center and one block from Gill Coliseum on the Oregon State campus. Coleman Field has a seating capacity of 2,000 permanent bleachers and may be expanded to accommodate 3,000 with portable seating. The natural grass playing surface has long been considered one of the finest in collegiate baseball. It is surrounded by a six-foot fence that rises to 20 feet in left field. The distances are 355 to the left field line, 400 to deep center field, and 330 down the right field line. It is 385 to the left center field and 365 to the right center field gap. Five years ago, the facility was renovated with the dedication of the field to Ralph Coleman through donations by baseball alumni and the help of the OSU Beaver Club. Orange plastic seat covers were added and the entire seating area was paved. In 1981, the Coleman dedication honored the Beaver alum and head coach of Beaver baseball from 1923 through 1931 and 1938 through 1966 - 36 years as head baseball coach and 47 all told with the OSU coaching staff. Coleman compiled a record of 560-317, a winning percentage of .639.

CREDITS
The Oregon State University Beaver Baseball press guide/game program is written and edited by OSU Assistant Sports Information Director Mike Corwin. It is printed by the OSU Bookstore Print Shop. Additional thanks go to all photography taken by OSU Athletic photographers Mike and Steve Shields. Cover shot by Mike Shields. Those posing for the cover shot are OSU baseball alum Todd Thomas, now with the San Francisco Giants, Jeff Longtain and Jennifer Drapela. From left to right on TV screen: All-Division Performers, Shortstop Ken Bowen, Third Baseman Quinn Williams, First Baseman David Brundage and Pitcher John Sipple.
